SHIPPING NEWS FIRST FOREIGN COAL

Small Cargo May Point Way to Other Profitable Shipments

COMING AS BALLAST

caused some hesitation on the part of those who were considering the possibility of bringing in coal, but the concensus was that some chances could be taken in view of the fact that return cargoes from Europe are particularly liard to get at this time. This is the reason why a nominal freight rate can be quoted. Any sum, however slight, above the mere cost of handling the coal would be welcome, as the total cost of operation on a round voyage usually has to be borne by the receipts on the outward trip.

MARINE NEWS NOTES.

Several points in law are raised by the board's action, in the opinion of con-ference members. It is held by some that the Government agency has the right to interfere with a conference agreement only after a hearing to deter-nine the fact. In the case. On behalf of the board it is contended that the right of suspending an agreement prior right of suspending an agreement prior to taking final action is inherent in the rization to revoke the agreement

Several organizations of marine and harbor workers, most of them affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, have formed an alliance known as the Consolidated Marine Organization of the Consolidated Marine Organization of the Consolidated Marine Organization of the Port of New York, with Thomas B. Healey of the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association as president and Joseph Ryan of the Longshoremen's Association, as vice-president. The announced intention of the body is to protect the welfare of the workers; stamp out radicalism in marine labor and help the Government combat the drug traffic. A rival alliance organization outside the A. F. of L., but equally, if not more conservative also is to be formed.

The intercoastal conference will meet to-day to consider the Shipping Board's order to suspend the agreement to eliminate Tacoma, Wash, as a port of call for the member lines. Some surprise was caused by the order, as it was the first time the board ever had attempted to exercise the regulatory function vested in it by law. More than 1,000 conference agreements were filed with the board last year, but not one was exepted to.
